

NTNU

NORWEGIAN UNIVERSITY OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

FACULTY FOR SOCIAL SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

Professor/Associate Professor in Finance/Macroeconomics - Code SVT-386

The Department of Economics at the Norwegian University of Science and Technology invites applications from outstanding scholars for the position of Professor/Assoc. Professor in Finance/Macroeconomics.

The department conducts research within finance and monetary economics, in addition to public economics, labour economics, development economics, political economics, education economics, econometrics, environmental- and resource economics.

The qualified candidate will hold a Ph.D in Finance or Economics and will possess a research record and teaching skills of outstanding quality. Personal suitability will be ascribed high importance. Special emphasis will be given to international publications over the last few years, and the potential for future research.

The most qualified applicants will be contacted for interview and examination of pedagogical skills.

The chosen candidate will have specific responsibility for teaching and research in Finance and will be required to participate in teaching activities in accordance with the relevant curriculum and to assist in further developing the teaching program. He/she will be expected to supervise masters students, research fellows and doctoral candidates in his/her discipline.

The chosen candidate must agree to participate in administrative work and shall participate in exams work without special remuneration. He/she is obliged to follow the regulations that concern changes and developments within the discipline and/or the organizational changes concerning activities at the University.

The total obligation to work shall be divided into research within the field, teaching and administration. The division between these fields of work obligation will vary, but approximately equal time should be devoted to research and teaching.

A Professor is paid according to salary level 66 to 95 in the national salary scheme, gross NOK 43 166,70 – 85 383,40 per month. Two percent of gross salary is deducted for the State Pension Scheme. An associate professor is paid according to salary level 57 - 76, gross NOK 36 541,70 – 52 516,70 per month.

All applicants wishing consideration must apply online at www.jobbnorge.no within the application deadline 15 September, 2010.

Applicants should include in their online application:
a cover letter, curriculum vitae, max. 10 papers and three letters of reference.
Please mark the application SVT-836.

Joint work will be evaluated. If it is difficult to identify the contributions from individuals in a joint piece of work, applicants should enclose a short descriptive summary of what he/she contributed to the work.

Further information about the position is available by contacting the Head of Department, Gunnar Bårdsen phone +47 73 59 19 38 and e-mail gunnar.bardsen@svt.ntnu.no, or Deputy Head Egil Matsen +47... and e-mail egil.matsen@svt.ntnu.no.

Newly-employed staff in academic positions who are not already fluent in a Scandinavian language must within three years obtain knowledge of Norwegian or another Scandinavian language at an equivalent standard to level three in the Norwegian for Foreigners courses provided at the Department of Language- and Communication Studies. The University provides such courses.

Any person employed without university pedagogic competence and without documented equivalent qualifications, will be required to attend and complete a course in university pedagogics within two years. NTNU offers such courses.

For further information:

http://www.ntnu.no/administrasjon/avdelinger/personal/momentliste_ped_kval_e.html

The appointment is to be made in accordance with the regulations in force concerning State Employees and Civil Servants. The employee is expected to accept possible changes in work tasks. Primary residency in Trondheim is a prerequisite.

It is a major political objective to achieve a balance of age and gender in the national labour force. Information about the applicants may be open to public inspection according to the Freedom of Information Act.