Executive Summary

This report describes the current solution for the public website of the SEUS project - <http://seus-project.eu/>. This website is intended to be the main communication channel of the project with the target group. It should include an overview of the project, current status, summaries of the deliverables and achieved results, as well as practical results on the existing version of the platform.

The webpage is hosted on NTNU servers. After the duration of the project, the website will exist for two more years, although frozen. Moreover, a copy of the website is intended to be included in the final release of the database (Zenodo Repository, see D6.1).

For more information on open access and the role of the website, consult D6.6 and D7.3 (M6).

Executive Summary .....	3
Table of Contents .....	3
1. SEUS Website .....	4
2. Rights and Obligations Related to Results .....	5

1. SEUS Website

Dissemination of results is a contractual obligation for projects funded under the Horizon programme. Horizon beneficiaries, therefore, conduct various dissemination activities through different means including visual communication, e-publications, information platforms, leaflets, press releases, posters, as well as various events including stakeholder workshops, thematic meetings and conferences at national and European level. This information is stored in the internal and external repositories of the project (see D6.1).

For the external information, the SEUS website is the main channel of communication for the wider target group outside the partners. This website complies with EU recommendations by providing information about the project, including a project summary, coordinator contact details, a list of participants, the European flag, a funding statement, and showcasing project results on beneficiaries' websites or social media accounts.

A public webpage is online for the project since February 2023, at www.seus-project.eu (screenshot in Figure 1). The webpage contains an overview of the project, current status and in the future, it will include summaries of the public deliverables and compilations of achieved results, as well as practical results on the existing version of the SEUS Smart platform.

The Website is currently organized in 8 tabs:

- SEUS Project Overview
- Innovation
- Partners
- Media & Events
- Resources
- Organization
- Contact
- Login for SEUS partners.

2. Rights and Obligations Related to Results

This website intends to converge all public information that the project will deliver, including communication, dissemination and exploitation. Emphasis is given to:

- Resources Tab (Figure 2), which compiles the data of the project in many layers, such as visual communication (e.g., logos, flyers, brochures), public articles (e.g., conferences and presentation) and software (via GitHub and Zenodo, in accordance with FAIR principles, see D61.)
- Media & Events: Which converge recent public communication of the project (Figure 3) as well as events linked to the target group.

The website also allows access to the internal SharePoint repository to its members, in the Login for SEUS Partners Tab. For more information on the nature of the repositories, see D6.1. For the role of the website in the dissemination and communication activities, as well as the principles for open access, consult D6.6 (M6) and D7.3 (M6).
