Full degree scholarship - MPhil in Childhood Studies, Norwegian University of Science and Technology, NTNU

Norwegian University of Science and Technology (NTNU) offers up to five full degree scholarship (two years) in MPhil in childhood studies for the 2023/24 academic year. This scholarship will be awarded on a competitive basis to applicants from Ethiopia. The recipient of the scholarship will be part of “AAU-NTNU Partnership to Promote Knowledge on Children and Sustainable Development” (NORPART - 2019-2023). Recipient of the scholarships will be enrolled in MPhil in childhood studies that is a two-year master's program at the Department of Education and Lifelong Learning, NTNU. S/he will spend the first year doing courses at NTNU, conduct fieldwork in Ethiopia for three months and write a master's thesis at NTNU. A committee from NTNU and AAU will select candidate for the scholarship.

Criteria:

- BA or preferably MA in social sciences (e.g. sociology, anthropology, social work, education, social psychology, geography, development studies, etc.).
- Affiliation with AAU (defined as those applicants who have completed their previous degrees from, currently studying in and/or employed by AAU).
- Gender balance with the view of increasing Ethiopian female students' participation in international student mobility.
- Experience in research and teaching in higher educational institutions, preferably in AAU.

Selected students will receive:

- Monthly stipend for two years according to the Norwegian State Education and Loan Fund rate, to cover accommodation and living expenses in Trondheim (August 2023-June 2025).
- Travel expenses (economy fare, return air ticket Addis Ababa-Trondheim).
- Travel and fieldwork expenses
- Visa and resident permit processing fees.

Apply online using NTNU's application portal (søknadsweb). Deadline: 1 December 2022. Select “NORPART scholarship” from the menu in the application portal.
